SALES AND MARKETING

Thecasesolutions.com

Both sales and marketing are aimed to increase revenue. They are so closely intertwined that people often don't realize the difference between the two. It is normal practice that the same people typically perform both sales and marketing tasks. However, marketing is different from sales and as the organization grows, the roles and responsibilities become more specialized. Both can be still under umbrella of one department (Sales and Marketing or Business Development) but should have different approach, tasks and objectives.
