

Moving Beyond Marketing: Generating Social Business Value Across the Enterprise

Thecasesolutions.com

What is it?
Thecasesolutions.com
A public-listed company is a type of publicly held company in the United Kingdom. It is a limited liability company whose shares are freely sold and traded on the public, with a minimum share capital of £50,000 and the letters PLC after its name.

Private Equity firm
Thecasesolutions.com

A private equity firm is an investment manager that makes investments in the private equity of operating companies.
Often described as a financial sponsor, such firm will raise funds that will be invested in accordance with one or more specific investment strategies.

Company structure
Thecasesolutions.com
Private Equity firm
Thecasesolutions.com
Public Equity
Thecasesolutions.com

Holding company
Thecasesolutions.com
A company created to buy and possess the shares of other companies, which it then controls.

Advantages and Disadvantages
Thecasesolutions.com
What are the advantages and disadvantages of a PLC?

Advantages
• Large scale of operations
• High level of liquidity
• High level of transparency
• High level of accountability
• High level of risk management
• High level of risk management

Disadvantages
• High level of risk management
• High level of risk management
• High level of risk management
• High level of risk management
• High level of risk management
• High level of risk management

Moving Beyond Marketing: Generating Social Business Value Across the Enterprise

Thecasesolutions.com

What is it? Thecasesolutions.com

A public-listed company is a type of publicly held company in the United Kingdom. It is a limited liability company whose shares are freely sold and traded on the public, with a minimum share capital of £50,000 and the letters PLC after its name.

Private Equity firm Thecasesolutions.com

A private equity firm is an investment manager that makes investments in the private equity of operating companies.

Often described as a financial sponsor, such firm will raise funds that will be invested in accordance with one or more specific investment strategies.

Holding company Thecasesolutions.com

A company created to buy and possess the shares of other companies, which it then controls.

Advantages and Disadvantages Thecasesolutions.com

Select one the advantages and disadvantages of a PLC.

What is it?!

Thecasesolutions.com

A public limited company is a type of publicly held company in the United Kingdom. It is a limited liability company whose shares are freely sold and traded to the public, with a minimum share capital of £50,000 and the letters PLC after its name.

Private Equity firm

Thecasesolutions.com

A private equity firm is an investment manager that makes investments in the private equity of operating companies.

Often described as a financial sponsor, each firm will raise funds that will be invested in accordance with one or more specific investment strategies.

Leverage Buyout

Thecasesolutions.com

A leveraged buyout is when a company or single asset (e.g. a real estate property) is purchased with a combination of equity and significant amounts of borrowed money, structured in such a way that the target's cash flows or assets are used as the collateral to secure and repay the money borrowed to purchase the target-company/asset.

Venture CAPITAL

Thecasesolutions.com

Venture capital (VC) is financial capital provided to early-stage, high-potential, high risk, growth start-up companies. The venture capital fund makes money by owning equity in the companies it invests in, which usually have a novel technology or business model in high technology industries.

Growth CAPITAL

Thecasesolutions.com

Growth capital (also called expansion capital and growth equity) is a type of private equity investment, most often a minority investment, in relatively mature companies that are looking for capital to expand or restructure operations, enter new markets or finance a significant acquisition without a change of control of the business.

Leverage Buyout

Thecasesolutions.com

A leveraged buyout is when a company or single asset (e.g. a real estate property) is purchased with a combination of equity and significant amounts of borrowed money, structured in such a way that the target's cash flows or assets are used as the collateral to secure and repay the money borrowed to purchase the target-company/asset.

TH

Venture CAPITAL

Thecasesolutions.com

Venture capital (VC) is financial capital provided to early-stage, high-potential, high risk, growth start-up companies. The venture capital fund makes money by owning equity in the companies it invests in, which usually have a novel technology or business model in high technology industries.

Growth CAPITAL

Thecasesolutions.com

Growth capital (also called expansion capital and growth equity) is a type of private equity investment, most often a minority investment, in relatively mature companies that are looking for capital to expand or restructure operations, enter new markets or finance a significant acquisition without a change of control of the business.

Holding company

Thecasesolutions.com

A company created to buy and possess the shares of other companies, which it then controls.

Advantages and Disadvantages

What are the advantages and disadvantages of a PLC...

Thecasesolutions.com

Advantages

- There is limited liability for the shareholders.
- The business has separate legal entity. There is continuity even if any of the shareholders die.
- These businesses can raise large capital sum as there is no limit to the number of shareholders.
- The shares of the business are freely transferable providing more liquidity to its shareholders .

Disadvantages

- There are lot of legal formalities required for forming a public limited company. It is costly and time consuming.
- In order to protect the interest of the ordinary investor there are strict controls and regulations to comply. These companies have to publish their accounts.
- The original owners may lose control.
- Public Limited companies are huge in size and may face management problems such as slow decision making and industrial relations problems.