

Describing me:

Thecasesolutions.com

I was born in Beaumont Texas and brought back to Dallas two days after i was born by my adoptive parents whom i live with now.

I enjoy just driving around and being myself. When get the chance ill go to White Rock Lake and just sit there and admire the lakes beauty.

I currently work at Jasmines Hookah lounge in Richardson.

The reason why i am here is so that i can further my education and graduate and go to Stephen F Austin State University (which is my dream school) and get a Special Education Teaching Degree.

Student-directed, Autonomous learner

Autonomy means self-governing. In this s it means you are able and are taking care of yourself, and independent of having to be or wanting to be directed by others.

I had to transition from being a high school student; relying on the help of my teachers to tell me what i can and cant do and my parents doing the same. In college now my professors kind of still tell me what to do but in a way of just learning based and "how to" do things.

I possess grit and perseverance with passion in the face of obstacles. i am working on all the other self-directed learners characteristics (all are listed in next frame.)

I will be definitely working on 'taking responsibility for my education and eliminating, reducing and managing stress by working hard and setting goals and

and sets for every situation

Self-directed learner #2

*Create: Produce new and original work color-blue symbol-hammer image-*lightbulb

Evaluate: justify a stand or decision color-brown symbol- the white house image-a jury

Analyze: draw connections among ideas color-pink symbol-magnifying glass image-inspector

These are just the first few blooms taxonomy that i have done. My method is to choose color for each that would signify or represent it best and then choose a symbol that would signify the word and show something related to it in a sense, and lastly i would chose an image that would allow me to remember it best.

Thecasesolutions.com

*I have chosen one career instead of two because i already know what i want to do.
I have chose Special Education teaching.
Salary- "Special education teachers in Texas who taught kindergarten through the elementary grades had a median salary of $51,230 annually in 2012, according to the BLS."
degree- you need a masters in teaching and special education training/teaching Job outlook- schools nationwide are in need but spots are limited to the best qualified*

My world

Thecasesolutions.com

The people i want myself to be around and with throughout the rest of my life would be people who i can trust and call family and friends. That includes; owning up to mistakes, taking responsibility, knowing what is right and wrong in different situation and knowing a little about life.

I want to own either a small to medium sized home with a big back yard or a ranch due to all the animals i will have. I will be fostering and adopting cattle and domestic pets from harm and care for them and love them the way they should be. I want to be able to care for animals as for my family if i have one and be successful and give back to my community in volunteering when i have the time.

I will be living under Gods rain and allow him to move me to what ever he wants me to do in life.

My dream job would be a special education teacher for those who are disabled because i have many friends who are and i want to help others like them.

my degree plan
