WHY SCOTTS MIRACLE-GRO?

"Over the years, consumers have relied on our brands to meet their lawn and garden needs."

- SMG is greatly relied on by consumers due to the consistent efficiency of the product
- This leads to the company's marketing

MARKETING

- Packaging uses vibrant earth colours in order to appeal the customer.
- Few words, many images of fulfilled vegetation, implying the efficiency of the product, again influencing the customer.
- Lots of green (reflecting the environment)

MARKETING

- Pricing is a expensive, however, due to it's position in the market place and the efficiency of the product it is seen as a reasonable price
- EXAMPLE:

MARKETING

- SMG relies a great amount on commercials and billboards for advertising.
- Final product needs a visual representation
- Using words is difficult to highlight the effectiveness of a SMG product
- The consumers are people who seek maintenance in their lawn and/or garden

Market Place

- The market is considered an oligopoly due to the small number of producers and sellers
- The fertilizer market is driven by two major companies: Scotts Miracle Gro, and C-I-L Golfgreen
- C-I-L Golfgreen's fertilizer is SMG's direct competitor because they have an almost identical product (fertilizer)
