

EcoGenix

TheCasesolutions.com

Hundreds of thousands of sea turtles, whales, and other marine animals, and more than 1 million seabirds die each year from ocean pollution and ingestion or entanglement in marine debris.

The amount of garbage that we throw out into the ocean is bad and appalling.

We can reduce the amount of plastic bags we use by bringing our own reusable bags. By saying no to plastic straws we can stop some waste being made and an alternative is to use a metal straw and by using reusable water bottles that can be refilled we take out a lot of plastic in the ocean.

We need to do the three 'R's by reducing waste, reusing containers and recycle the waste we can.

The Plastic Ocean

Plastic Ocean

The amount of garbage that we throw out into the ocean is bad and appalling.

Hundreds of thousands of sea turtles, whales, and other marine mammals, and more than 1 million seabirds die each year from ocean pollution and ingestion or entanglement in marine debris.