A stylized map of East Africa with various colored regions (tan, green, blue, pink, purple) and a 'Swahili' label. The map is overlaid with a dark blue semi-transparent rectangle containing the title text. The text is in a large, bold, black serif font. The word 'Swahili' is written in a smaller, white, sans-serif font with a small icon of a person next to it. The background map shows the outline of the African continent with different colors representing different regions or countries. The ocean is a deep blue color. There are some small, faint icons or markers on the map, including one near the 'Swahili' label and another in the bottom right corner of the map area.
