

Monocle

Thecasesolutions.com

Monocle

Thecasesolutions.com

"I'm going to marry"
"Are you sure about that?"
"I don't know ..."

Are you sure about that?

We are always in doubt about
many issues:

- Family
- Career
- Relationship

Thecasesolutions.com

Possible answers

Well ...

it's possible,

it might be,

Maybe...

It is not true, isn't it?

I suppose,

I'm not sure

I doubt it.

I have my own doubts.

it's doubtful

It's highly / very unlikely

Thecasesolutions.com

Work in Group

Procedures:

1. Take a paper with a number
2. Find 2 students with the same number
3. You have a group of 3 people
Then...
4. Take another paper
5. Read and understand the sentences you have with you group
6. Listen to your professor's instructions.

Thecasesolutions.com

A famous person's eyes - but whose?

Who is she?

Is she an actress?

Is she a singer?

Do you have an idea?

Try to guess it.

Read the dialogue

Thecasesolutions.com

Thecasesolutions.com

Expressing uncertainty

Thecasesolutions.com

When you are learning a language, you become very good at showing people you don't know something! But sometimes we have an idea about something, but we're not completely sure. How can we express different levels of certainty?

Let's read a dialogue and identify different ways for this.

Question Tag

We often use this structure when we are unsure of something or want to check information.

1. She isn't an actress...is she?
2. She's been on T.V. ...hasn't she?

Thecasesolutions.com