

*The Pitcairn Family
Heritage Fund
TheCaseSolutions.com*

The Pitcairn Family Heritage Fund

TheCaseSolutions.com

Location

The Pitcairn Islands are located in the South Pacific ocean, a bit north of New Zealand. Only one of the islands are populated though

Climate

The Pitcairn Islands are considered tropical, this means it is very humid and wet like a rainforest. The temperature usually ranges from 10-43 degrees celsius. The average rainfall is around 20 inches and it never snows.

Intresting Facts

- The populated island only has around 70 people.
- Almost everyone on the populated island is related.
- The Pitcairn Islands follow New Zealands government.