

On the Ropes: Knock Out! Panties

TheCaseSolutions.com

TheCaseSolutions.com

TheCaseSolutions.com

On the Ropes: Knock Out! Panties

Our Mission, Vision and Values

Mission: To create jobs for people with disabilities.

TheCaseSolutions.com

TheCaseSolutions.com

Our Mission, Vision and Values

Vision: To be the premiere employer of people with disabilities; the vendor of choice in the markets we serve; and the recognized leader in meeting the needs of individuals in overcoming barriers to employment.

Our Mission, Vision and Values

Mission: To create jobs for people with disabilities.

TheCaseSolutions.com

TheCaseSolutions.com
TheCaseSolutions.com

Our Mission, Vision and Values

Values: People: Working together we create a challenging and rewarding environment, energized by the knowledge that our efforts make a positive difference in the community and the world.

Customer: Our customers – partners in our mission – look to us for quality, responsiveness and value. .

Culture: Our success comes from the PRIDE way of doing business, characterized by entrepreneurship, integrity, passion, innovation, continuous improvement, safety, and a touch of zaniness.

History

TheCaseSolutions.com

In 1966, a small group of devoted parents met in the basement of a church of Auburn, California. Their goal was to create an organization that would find meaningful work for their children with disabilities—and in the process, help those children transcend their disabilities. At that meeting, the idea for PRIDE Industries was born.

TheCaseSolutions.com

TheCaseSolutions.com Kaneohe Commissary

- 30 employees, 5 non-disabled
- Disabilities range from severe learning disabilities to deaf
- Accommodations are listed for each individual based on disability.
- Job coach training and assistance technology.

TheCaseSolutions.com

History
TheCaseSolutions.com
 In 1966, a small group of devoted parents met in the basement of a church in Auburn, California. Their goal was to create an organization that would find meaningful work for their children with disabilities—and as the parents, help those children transcend their disabilities. At that meeting, the idea for PRIDE Initiatives was born.
 TheCaseSolutions.com

TheCaseSolutions.com
Kaneoshe Commissary

- 30 employees, 5 non-disabled
- Disabilities range from severe learning disabilities to deaf
- Accommodations are tailored for each individual based on disability
- Job coach training and assistance technology

TheCaseSolutions.com

TheCaseSolutions.com
TheCaseSolutions.com
Our Mission, Vision and Values

Values: People. Working together we create a challenging and rewarding environment, energized by the knowledge that our efforts make a positive difference in the community and the world.

Customers: Our customers – partners in our mission – look to us for quality, responsiveness and value.

Culture: Our success comes from the PRIDE way of doing business, characterized by entrepreneurship, integrity, passion, innovation, continuous improvement, safety, and a touch of whimsy.

TheCaseSolutions.com

Rewards

- Most employees have a hard time finding and keeping a job
- Parents write letters to show appreciation.
- Employees work extremely hard in appreciation.
- Feeling of contribution.

TheCaseSolutions.com