 Game 1: Back-to-back Drawing for 2 members - 2 minutes (drawing skills + imagination + skills)
 Divide your group into pairs, and have each pair sit on the floor back to back. Give one person in each pair a picture of a shape, and give the other person a pencil and spot of paper.
 Ask the people holding the pictures to give verbal instructions to their partners on how to draw the shape... without actually seeing the picture what the shape is. After they're finished, ask each pair to compare their original shape with the actual drawing, and consider the following questions:
 How well did the first person describe the shape?
 How well did the second person interpret the instructions?
 Were there problems with both the sending and receiving parts of the communication process?
 Game 2: Story telling game for 2 members - 2 minutes (imagination + communication + reasonability)
 Give five random city pictures and each team has to come up with a reasonable story.
 Game 3: name guessing game - students and teachers (physical traits, background, name, gender)
 Game 4: Reminding game for all team members (best memory skill)
 Instructor tells a short story in a reverb. Then the teacher has to tell the story again.
 Instructor asks questions, and the other member has to answer.
 Backup game: Judy's game, crossword
 Conclusion from the game:
 The important thing is not about where you get because life is not about the destination. It is all about the journey to get there.
