

Toy2R: A Pioneer of Creative Designer Toys in Hong Kong

TheCaseSolutions.com

Toy2R: A Pioneer of Creative Designer Toys in Hong Kong

TheCaseSolutions.com

What would your duties be?

1. Depending on where they work. they also help and package toys
2. A typical day would include
 - A. Brainstorming ideas for a new toy
 - B. Make prototypes to make sure it works

TheCaseSolutions.com

What are the working Conditions?

- It could be either for a toy company or at home

TheCaseSolutions.com

What hours would you work and would they have to be flexible?

I would only work part time as a toy designer because working full time would be hard to earn money. even if you worked for a company.

TheCaseSolutions.com

Would you work alone or with a group?

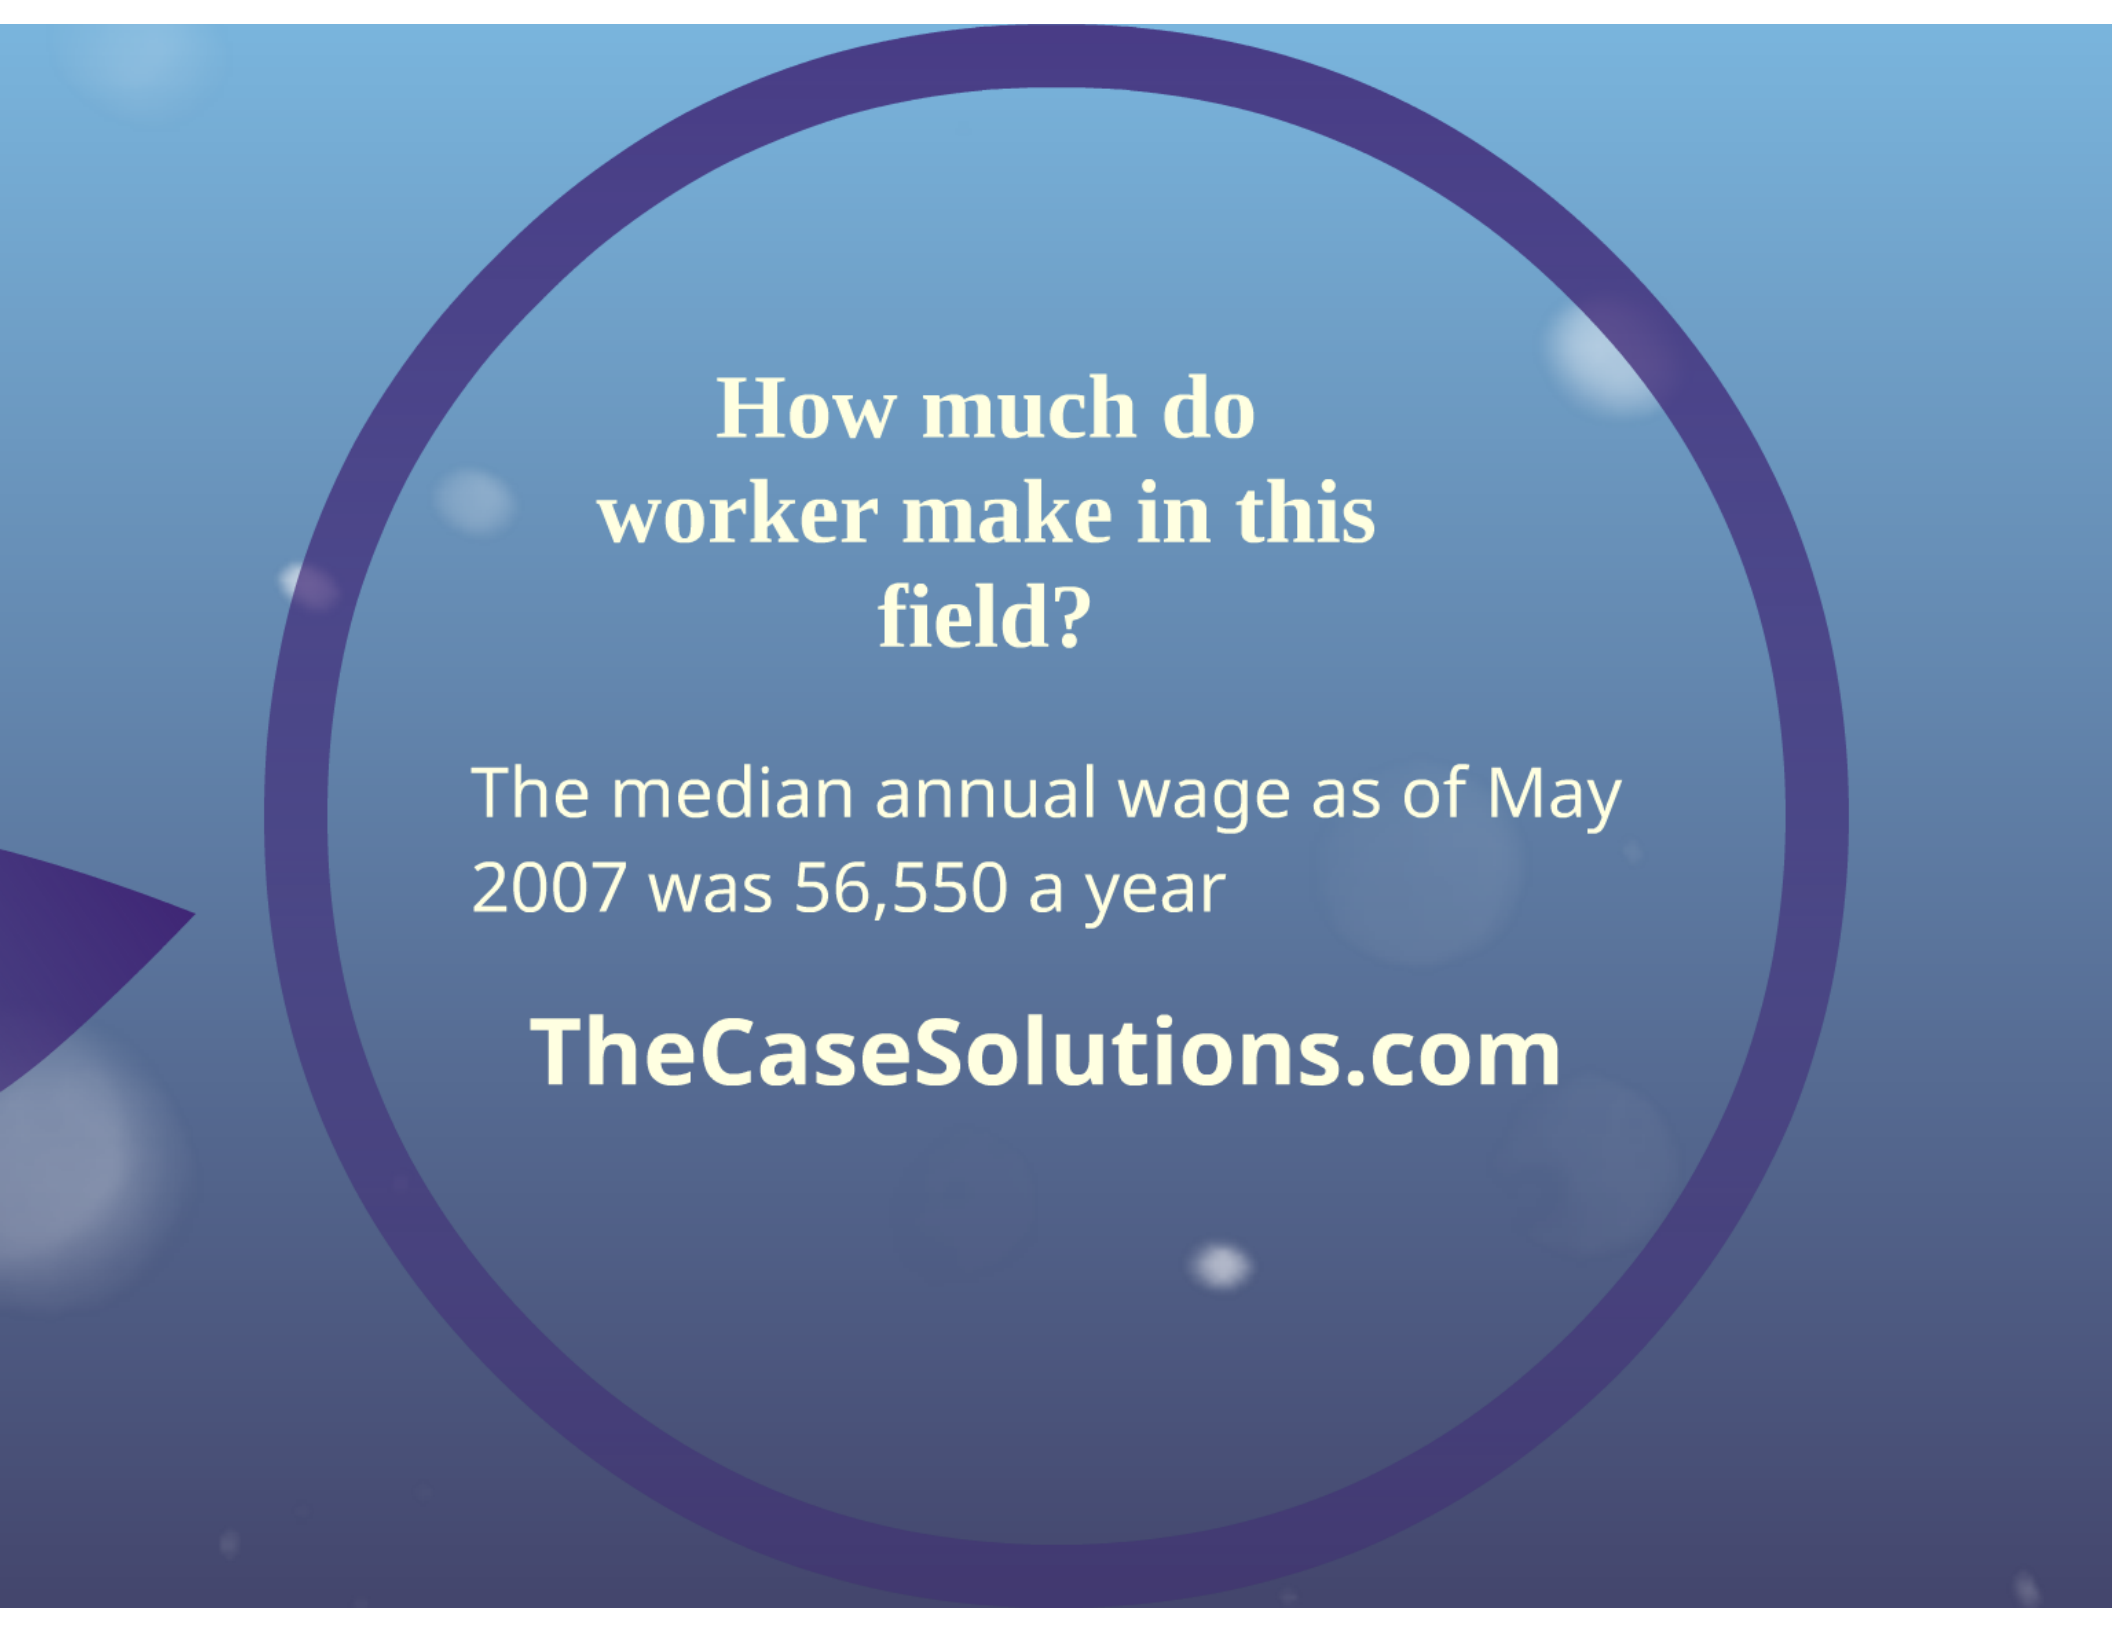

I would be doing both, I would come up with idea on my own and then talk about with a group and see with that think, or I could work with a group to come up with a new toy idea.

TheCaseSolutions.com

What qualifications would you need for this job?

- Begin able to communicate with others and to communicate ideas visually are other important skills
- Play needs for children
- Market
- Have good hands on skills with different artistic disciplines
- must be good at drawing to sculpting or computer design software
- How toys are manufactured
- No formal education is required but employer would most likely hire you if you had one

TheCaseSolutions.com

How much do worker make in this field?

The median annual wage as of May 2007 was 56,550 a year

TheCaseSolutions.com

om

Is toy Designers competitive.

- The toy market is very competitive. It changes quickly in reaction to trends and changes in customer taste.

TheCaseSolutions.com