

Why It's Not Fair to Blame Fair Value

Vol XCIII, No. 311

Introduction

Grabber

A. Due to an enormous amount of evidence, I strongly believe the Nurse is to blame for the death of Romeo and Juliet.
B. My name is Gabriel Figueroa, and I blame the nurse.
C. The Nurse acted on her own accord, told Juliet to give up her plans to marry Romeo, and she only followed what Juliet's Parents wanted.

Character Description

1. Caretaker of Juliet since birth.
2. Gave advice to Juliet about Courtship.

Evidence why the Nurse is to blame.

1st reason to blame.

Reason- The Nurse forced Juliet to give up her love for Romeo.
1. The Nurse forced Juliet to give up all of her love for Romeo. (Including her plans to marry him and instead to marry Prince Paris.)
2. I think it is best you married with the County. It's a lovely gentleman. (Romeo is a foolish boy, he's a knight, a soldier, he's not so grown, so far an eye as Paris hath. Besides my very heart, I think you are happy in this second match, I needs you too?) (Act 3, Scene 5, Line 233-235)

2nd reason why Nurse is to blame.

Evidence.

Reason- The Nurse didn't collaborate with the Countess on how much poison to give Juliet.
1. The Nurse didn't calculate how much to give Juliet to make it work properly and kill her well.
2. The Nurse should've asked how much poison should be too much or too little instead of giving her whole bottle and just waiting to see what happened afterwards.

3rd Reason why the Nurse is to blame.

Evidence

Reason- The Nurse didn't try to give Juliet's parents any alternatives on how Juliet can live Romeo without constant war.
1. The Nurse didn't propose other options to Juliet's parents because she felt they wouldn't listen because they only thought of Juliet, a Capulet, going out with Romeo, a Montague, which would compromise everything further.
2. Much like Prince Laurence, The Nurse didn't calculate what would happen if Romeo and Juliet got married, and how it would affect The Nurse's status in the Capulet household.

Conclusion.

The Nurse is highly responsible for Romeo and Juliet's death. She acted on her own accord without thinking what might happen in the end, acted rashly when she gave Juliet the poison and gave Juliet bad advice on how to handle her issues with marrying Romeo.

THE END!
