estimated 27-75 Million deaths

- Since records of deaths and sickness were not recorded or lost, nobody know the exact number of deaths or people infected.
- Everyone infected ended up dying, so the number of infected people is from 27-75 million.
- This disease spread by being around the person who was sick or even touching their clothes.
- Another way it was spread was by fleas and rats catching it and passing it throughout the world.
