 If you make a online network you should not give personal details or mobile numbers.

Copyright
 The copyright law is to not take images or text, without the owners permission, because you could get in jail for 10 years or 6 months. Also you could get fined $5,000.

Cryptography
 Cryptography is when a code is used to hide information or send a message. It is used to make sure messages that are confidential are safe. The only people that can read the message is the person who sent it and the person who is supposed to receive it. The only way to break a code is to use the same key that was used to create it. The Caesar shift cryptography is one of the oldest forms of cryptography.
