What is Basecamp?

Basecamp is a great project management tool that helps groups collaborate with one another.

It runs directly through a browser and also has apps for mobile devices, including iOS, Android, and BlackBerry.

How it works

Pricing starts at $20/month, but there is a free 60-day trial included.

Basecamp works through the browser and works as a hub for collaborations. Discussions can be held, to-dos can be assigned, notifications can be sent to everyone, and files can be shared with one another.

Easy to use/ Download?

Because Basecamp works primarily through a Web browser, it is usable between different operating systems and devices.

Although smartphones can access Basecamp through their browsers, there are also apps for iOS, Android, and BlackBerry.
