Government

In Italy the president must be at least 50 years old. They also have the power to get rid of parliament and call for a reelection. The President is the commander of the Italians. There is not a Vice president and if the president is to die they will respond by having another election. The president of Italy was also elected for a Seven years term

In 1947 the constitution was passed and took affect on January 1, 1948 in which they established a government (Which would be made of a president.)

Socialism

Italy's socialist party is center stage. Its become this way by political transformations and at home and aboard.

ART

"From the earliest times, Italians have left their mark on every major artistic movement in the Western World. From Etruscan bronzes to the flowing lines of Baroque churches and everything in between, Italian artistry is world-renown. In this section, learn about Italian masters, their groundbreaking methods and their priceless works that still inspire awe and wonder."
